CASE IS REMOVED TO WARRENCOUNTY

Powell Murder Trial in Halifax Court Suddenly Collapses.

SPECIAL VENIRE EXHAUSTED

Two Men Charged With Attempting to Influence Juror.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Weldon, N. C., April 1.—The E. E. Powell murder trial suddenly collapsed in Halifax Superior Court to-day after ten jurors had been accepted, and placed in the box, and Judge Ward moved the case to Warren Superior Court.

When court opened this morning, two additional jurors were quickly secured, making a total of ten. After that man after man, as called to the stand, would state positively that he could not give the prisoner a fair trial. One venireman created a ripple of laughter by saying that if accepted as a juror he would try the case by what he had previously heard and not by the evidence in court. Judge Ward said, "The juror does not really mean that; he is a little tangled on the question, so he's excused."

It appearing to the court, after exhausting the special venire, that the case should be removed, he promptly so ordered, and the State asked that it be moved to Warren county.

Prejudice Is Natural.
Judge Ward said in removing the case:

"I did not think it necessary when the motion was first made for removal. Now I am convinced that it should go to another county. I, in no sense reflect on the citizenship of the county; it is natural under the circumstances that they should so feel. I might feel the same way myself under similar circumstances."

Solicitor Kerr said that he had information that L. R. Carter, of Scotland Neck, and C. T. Lewis, of Palmira, had approached Venireman L. A. Daniel, knowing that he had been summoned as a juror, and had tampered with the said Daniel by urging upon him to do all he could for the prisoner, provided he was accepted as a juror. Mr.

State Senator Edward L. Travis, of Halifax, N. C., who was shot and seriously wounded by E. E. Powell, whose trial for the murder of Police man Charles W. Dunn, at Scotland Neck, is still in progress, was brought yesterday to the Memorial Hospital for an examination. He is in charge of Dr. Douglas Vanderhoof, but the condition of the patient is such that Dr. John P. Davidson was called into the hospital this morning, and a more thorough diagnosis will probably be made this afternoon. Senator Travis is not considered a material witness in the case against Powell for the murder of Policeman Dunn, and his absence will probably not cause any delay in the proceedings.

INVESTIGATION ORDERED.
Grand Jury Will Look Into Recent Escapes From Norfolk Jail.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., April 1.—The announcement is made that a special grand jury, by order of Judge Lawless, will investigate the recent escape of three prisoners from the Norfolk county jail. It is understood that the investigation will be directed against Ellsworth Hubert, the death watch, whom it is alleged, was asleep, but who denies the charge, claiming that he was attending to duties in other parts of the jail property.

ARRESTED IN ROANOKE.
Guy Bell Charged With Defrauding Johnson City Hotel.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Roanoke, Va., April 1.—Guy Bell, whose home is in East Virginia and who has done newspaper work at Richmond and in other Virginia towns and in Tennessee, was arrested here and locked up on a charge of defrauding a hotel at Johnson City, Tenn., by passing an alleged forged check for $75.

DR. JAMES IS PRESIDENT.
Fifth Session of Association of Presidents of Women's Colleges.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Raleigh, N. C., April 1.—In the closing session of the North and South Carolina Association of Presidents of Women's Colleges to-night, Dr. J. C. James, of Greenville, S. C., was elected president, and Greenville was selected as the next place of meeting.

Mrs. Lusk Robertson, of Greensboro, was re-elected secretary.

The association adopted resolutions pledging the colleges not to admit tuberculosis students, and to require vaccination.

ELI SOCIETY GIVES DANCE.

Final Social Function in Connection With Easter at University.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Charlottesville, Va., April 1.—The final German of Easter week, held last night in the Fayerweather Gymnasium, at the University of Virginia, was given by the Eli Society. There were about sixty couples on the floor and dancing was kept up until after midnight. Music was furnished by Thelma's Orchestra, of Richmond. The Monday night German was given by the University German Club, that on Tuesday night by the Beta Theta Pi Fraternity, and Wednesday night by the Tika Ribbon Society. There is a large number of visiting girls from this and adjoining States.

TO INSPECT RIVER

Assistant Secretaries of the Treasury Board Apache Here To-Day.

Charles D. Norton and J. A. Freeman Curtis, Assistant Secretaries of the Treasury, left Washington last night for Richmond, where to-day they will board the revenue cutter Apache, which has arrived in the harbor, and starts on a sight-seeing tour down the James River. Although they say the trip is one of sight-seeing, they refuse to state whether any official business takes them on the visit. The two assistant secretaries will return to Washington Monday morning.

HULCHER IMPROVING

Boy Who Was Struck by Negro Is Still in Hospital.

Glenn Hulcher, the young son of ex-Policeman Louis Hulcher, who was murdered by a negro, Sunday night on Brook Avenue, was reported last night as being somewhat better, and it is now believed by the attending physicians that he will recover.

Eddie Warner, the negro who is alleged to have thrown a half-brick and struck young Hulcher, is still being detained, and Tessa Lee, the woman with whom a crowd of boys was quarreling at the time Hulcher was injured, is also in jail, where she is being held as an important witness.

OPPONENTS HOLD FINAL MEETING WOMEN READY TO TAG WHOLE TOWN

Old Ground Gone Over by Page and Other Anti-Consolidation Speakers.

Reiteration of former statements as to the financial condition of Richmond and Manchester, belittling of the legality of the consolidation ordinance, appeals for the working men and home government, and other repetitions of former viewpoints were the main points in addresses delivered last night in the Courthouse, at the last rally of the league before election day.

C. B. Anderson, the first speaker, declared that the press had belittled his side.

He asserted that the "anti" fought from a principle, that Washington fought the Britten, and "not by buttons and paint brushes." He dwelt upon the word "adequate" as embodied in the ordinance, and declared that Richmond was the sole judge as to the desirability of the word.

J. S. Wakefield went into detail as to methods of the several city committees.

In regard to the election of policemen in Richmond, he referred to "political pull" and said there would be no such "pull" if we went to Richmond.

Manchester's city sergeant, he averred, six months ago was the strongest of the "anti" men that ever he had gone over. "I don't know what's been said to him," he remarked.

Ernest Nebitt, of the Third Ward, asserted that he had never heard of a city where its officers and members of its committees had so "turned it down."

In reference to Mr. Brown's remarks in connection with the depreciation of the Free Bridge, he said: "Why in common sense did he want to become Mayor of a worthless, bankrupt town? I have no faith in any man who will get up and blackguard their city as some of that committee have done."

John Barrett, of the Fourth Ward, cried much laughter. In speaking of the reception of the Manchester committee by the Richmond committee, he made fun of the whole proceeding. He declared that if any one could prove to him that the pamphlet, "Consolidation Facts" was true, he would vote for consolidation. Cries of "I will" were heard, but silence was soon restored.

Charles L. Page went into a scrutiny of the ordinance and declared that the provisions were promises, and nothing but promises. He wanted to know whether it was in the interests of free speech and fair play for the consolidationists to obtain the only two available halls on the last rallying night before the election. The desire to suppress the truth, he asserted, had characterized the other side from beginning to end.

"Do you want to hurl us into the maelstrom of Richmond politics and under the control of the Richmond ring?" he exclaimed.

He endeavored to show by figures that Richmond's police, streets and fire departments were inadequate and suffering, and that its public school pay roll had been cut $5,000, and declared that Richmond was now behind. He said that Manchester would "surpass her home government and sovereignty," and that it "was nothing but an empty shell" she was to gain.

Hampton Firm Gets Contract.
Washington, D. C., April 1.—The Treasury Department to-day awarded to R. H. Richardson & Son, of Hampton, Va., a contract for the construction of the extension to the post-office at Danville, Va., at $45,244.

And the Man Who Fails to Wear One Will Be Put Down as the Meanest Yet.

When the Instructive Visiting Nurses' Association begins its tagging campaign on Monday in a short while the citizenry of Richmond and the citizen-yeomanry from Westhampton and from Hanover who are Richmond early morning "commuters" will blossom out in tags. The scene will look like a reunion of Confederate soldiers, so far as decorations are concerned.

For "sweet charity's sake" these tags will be sold for a small sum, and the purchaser will be requested to wear the emblem for the remainder of the day. The proceeds will go to support the association, which has wrought so much real and tangible good. Last year these nurses paid 18,000 visits. The success of the charity in the future depends on the mites that are gathered from all kinds and conditions of folk.

It will be a wary man that gets by these young women who sell the tags, for they are going to try to put one on every single man that comes along. Whether you belong to the church or not, you will have to come across with the shekels, for this is a benevolent enterprise that affects people of all sorts all over the city. This is one of those cases where a little goes a long way.

The tag was a wise invention. The man with the slim purse, whom the world calls ill-to-do, gets credit for his goodness by wearing the tag, while the rich man who is "show" is made to come over and be what he seems. It is the very finest opportunity for a contribution to good works by the man who never goes to church, and, therefore, never drops a nickel into the plush coffer.

Noel Will Be Candidate.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Norton, Va., April 1.—Senator John C. Noel, of Pennington Gap, tonight authorized the announcement in The Times-Dispatch that he will be a candidate for Congress in 1912, for the Republican nomination for Congress from the Ninth District, this regardless of the outcome of the election this year. The announcement coming at this time is not regarded as likely to help Mr. Stemp in his fight against Mr. Stuart.

YOUNG SMOKER BURNED.
Clothes of Six-Year-Old Lad Catches on Fire From Cigarette Ashes.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., April 1.—Straying away from his home and going into an empty vacant stable across the street, little Charles Williams, the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Williams, of 34 East Main Street, made a cigarette, applied a match to it and the burning ashes caught in his blouse, and, seriously, if not fatally, burned the little fellow.

The screams of the child alarmed a Mrs. Francis, residing at No. 35 East Main Street. Although quite ill at the time, she rushed downstairs and saw two or three little boys pulling the Williams child, who was lying face down on the floor, and his clothing ablaze, over the fence.

Mrs. Francis turned a hose, which was handy, on the child and extinguished the flames. The injured child was sent to St. Vincent's Hospital in the ambulance. The chest of the boy from his neck to the waist line was frightfully burned to-night, however, he is reported as resting easily, and no serious results are expected for the present.

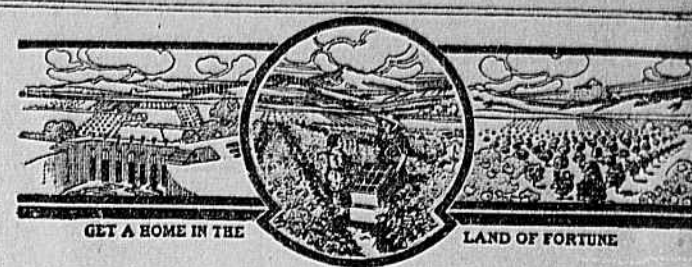

The cigarette in the child's mouth was composed of a piece of a newspaper and some weeds, so it is said.

WANTS TO SUCCEED ROSSER.
C. M. Louthan Announces Candidacy for Postmastership at Charlottesville.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Lynchburg, Va., April 1.—C. M. Louthan, although temporarily in this city as deputy collector of internal revenue, is a citizen of Charlottesville, and he stated this morning, when asked as to what he intended doing, that he is an applicant for the postmastership at Charlottesville, which was made vacant this week by the death of General T. L. Rosser.

Mr. Louthan went this afternoon to Charlottesville to arrange for his interests in a candidacy for the position.

Mr. Louthan several times declined the Republican nomination for Congress in the Seventh District, but declined in favor of friends. He said to-day that he postmaster at Charlottesville is worthy of any man's ambition, and if he is fortunate enough to secure the appointment, he will resign his position here, go to Charlottesville and give his entire attention to the office.
